LAST CALL

TODAY marks the wind-up of Letter Writing Week in Oregon. Have you written to friends or relatives in other sections, telling them of the wonders of Klamath?

Do so tonight, then, by all means. Do not neglect your own duty; do your share—and also urge others to participate.

This campaign means much to Oregon, means much to Klamath, means something to you as a "stockholder" in state and county.

Direct advertising gets results. What could be more direct than a letter addressed to friend, acquaintance or business connection?

Get your letters written at once. Help "spread the gospel," and make Oregon and Klamath, their resources, their attractions, their opportunities, their advantages, better known everywhere.

Get people here on vacations and sight-seeing, hunting and fishing trips, and they will tell others of the things they witnessed and learn of the good times they had.

Some of them will come here later to locate.

Oregon needs people. There is room here for a dozen times our present population.

But you know the story; you know our needs. Some have written hundreds of letters. How many will you write?

PATCHES

WHEN the law extending the "war taxes" for a further period of peace passed congress, a Washington paper announced the fact in these words: "The Wilson administration yesterday put the first patch on its tattered fiscal situation."

This picturesque language is most accurately descriptive. There has been and there will be no intention, at the White House or among the democratic leaders in congress, to do anything permanently effective for the relief of the treasury.

The free trade hulk is rotten and unseaworthy even in calm weather, as was well attested in the year prior to the European war. In time of stress the free trade craft becomes even more dangerous.

Yet her captain and crew refuse to have her remodeled. They will continue to put on patches which will render the hulk more unsightly and harder to manage, and which may or may not plug the leaks.

Scattered Shots

MORE SHOVELING in prospect.

ALSO, MORE candidates for offices.

FROM THE jumble now existing, it appears as though the administration failed to make any real preparation for its preparedness program.

BUT DON'T FORGET for a moment that the Oregon, California & Eastern is headed this way.

ADVICE IS something w'd rather give than receive.

LAST DAY of Letter Writing week. Are you one of the laggards?

BUSINESS MAY be poor in the fruit sections, but Klamath is still shipping livestock to an eager market.

AN EGOTIST is one of those darned fools who thinks he knows as much or more than you do.

An Aetna accident policy protects your income. See Chilcote. 15

In the work of compiling the 1915 lumber cut, the forest service has sent out requests to 627 sawmills in Washington and 695 sawmills in Oregon. Additional requests have been sent to 111 shingle mills in Oregon and to 287 shingle mills in Washington.

Now, Madam, If You Are Inclined to Be Stout!

"If I didn't perform exercises like this when I skate I would soon get stout," said Charlotte, the wonderful little German skater. "I know, because I take on weight when I am not working. What is good for me is good for any woman, is it not? No woman need be fat if she knows how to skate, and if she doesn't know it wouldn't take her long to learn." Charlotte has a trim figure. But she has the German health and vigor and there is no doubt, as she says, she would get heavier if she quit skating.

You, madam, think you could not learn to cut such antics or perhaps say they would not be becoming to a staid dowager.

"Well," said Charlotte, "I don't see why these exercises are not just as becoming as a lot of fat."

ROBERTS & HANKS

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY MARGARET MARON
(Written for the United Press)

The owner of the Fashion Shop is very low with gripe. The cashier has bronchitis. The buyer has a nip. Of plain old influenza, while the salesgirl has the pip. The model's mighty busy with a very active nose. And yet the window's full of hats of straw, and Springtime clothes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—You stand with your feet in the slush and snow and gaze at the flowery array of straw bonnets and cotton frocks in the gayly trimmed shop windows. You can almost smell the violets and the budding leaves and between sneezes you murmur hoarsely: "Spring is almost here!" But alas! Spring is far distant and the misleading shop windows only show the spirit of preparedness on the part of the shop keepers. It is true that you glimpse a straw hat occasionally on an early head, but one straw doesn't make a springtime any more than one swallow makes a drink. The recent motor show called out many spring modes. One stunning model was done as to body, in a smart serge suit of castor hue. A distinctly new top of absinthe green bamboo straw graced her head in the form of a cloche turban appetizingly encircled with one apple, one lemon, one orange and a bunch of pearl grapes. Castor, by the way, is the newest color for spring. It vies with the suits of white serge for Southern wear and tops the new spring boots in chic rivalry with white. Pink and blue in combination is another favored spring color scheme that has crept from under the surface popularity as lingerie tints, to surface wear in frocks and hats. Lovely muslins and cotton materials for one piece frocks are barred in pink or blue and sprigged in either forgetmenots or rosebuds, distractingly. Gather 'em roses while ye may and tuck 'em and ruffle 'em and smock 'em too and the result will be a duck of a dress, as quaint as an old fashioned picture. For we are still to be old fashioned this spring to be new fashioned, and the new spring silks as well as the cottons are quaintly colored and patterned in mid-Victorian manner. The spring hats continue to climb skyward even as their winter kin and high crowns and lofty arrangements of wings, bows and flowers distinguish them. Taffeta is a close rival of straw as a hat material and quaint little bonnet shaped or cloche hats of taffeta are trimmed in old fashioned ruffles of the same. Taffeta hats faced in straw and straw hats faced in taffeta add variety; and two colored straws woven in check design in plain sailors of snug turban shapes are beginning a checkered career in these bleak months of wind and snow on which not even a checked straw can put a check.
